Today: 2016 & 2017

The American Library Association launched a new public awareness campaign called “Libraries Transform” in 2015. Libraries Transform seeks to shift the mindset that “libraries are obsolete or nice to have” to “libraries are essential,” and change the perception that “libraries are just quiet places to do research, find a book, and read” to “libraries are centers of their communities: places to learn, create, and share, with the help of library staff and the resources they provide.”

The Pflugerville Public Library is more than a school or job resources center, it is more than stacks of books or new tech toys, it is more than movies or a business luncheon or a place to study, it is more than book clubs or quilting groups or a place to volunteer, it is more than story time or a place to dream- it is all of these things and more. It’s the community living room.

The Pflugerville Public Library is rising to the challenge of transforming public libraries in a number of ways. First, the library in conjunction with the Library Board is reviewing the American Library Association’s Center for the Future of Libraries and seeing how Pflugerville Public Library matches up to the challenge of current and future trends. In areas where the library may not be meeting the challenge entirely, the Library Board helps to find ways in which we can achieve it. The seven categories of trends are - Society, Technology, Education, the Environment, Politics (and Government), Economics, and Demographics. The planning of library programs and the decision to purchase resources is, in part, made with these categories in mind.

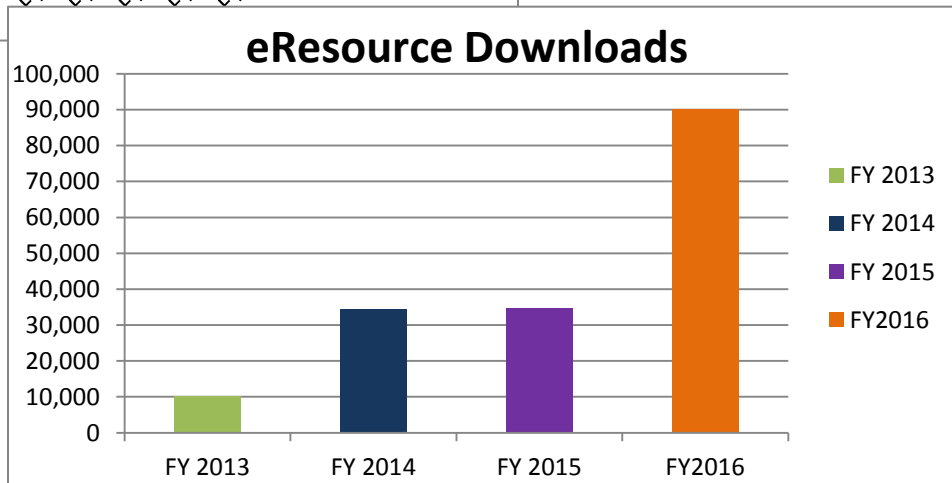

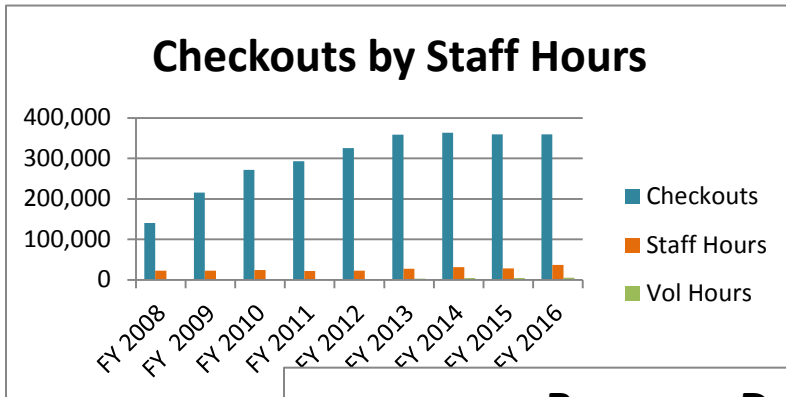

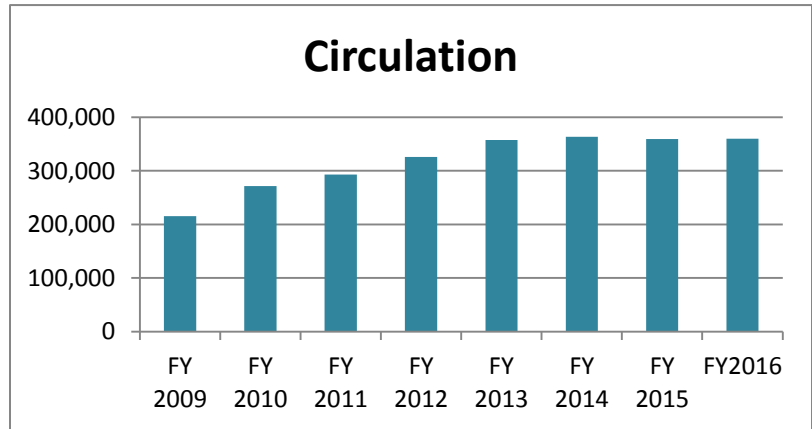

Secondly, and with these trends in mind, in 2016 the library launched new services and programs to help patrons of all ages and abilities learn, create, and succeed. New services include opening the Pfab Lab, a place for creativity, expression, socialization and knowledge sharing; the expansion of the computer classroom and an increase in classes like science and coding classes and guitar lessons. Other innovations include loaning non-traditional library materials like Maker Kits (sewing machines, computer components and etc), WiFi Hotspots, and eReaders. We have also introduced socially inclusive programming with the introduction of sensory story time for children on the autism spectrum and by allowing comfort animals at the library (studies have shown their therapeutic benefits in public spaces to persons suffering from anxiety or depression, see references).

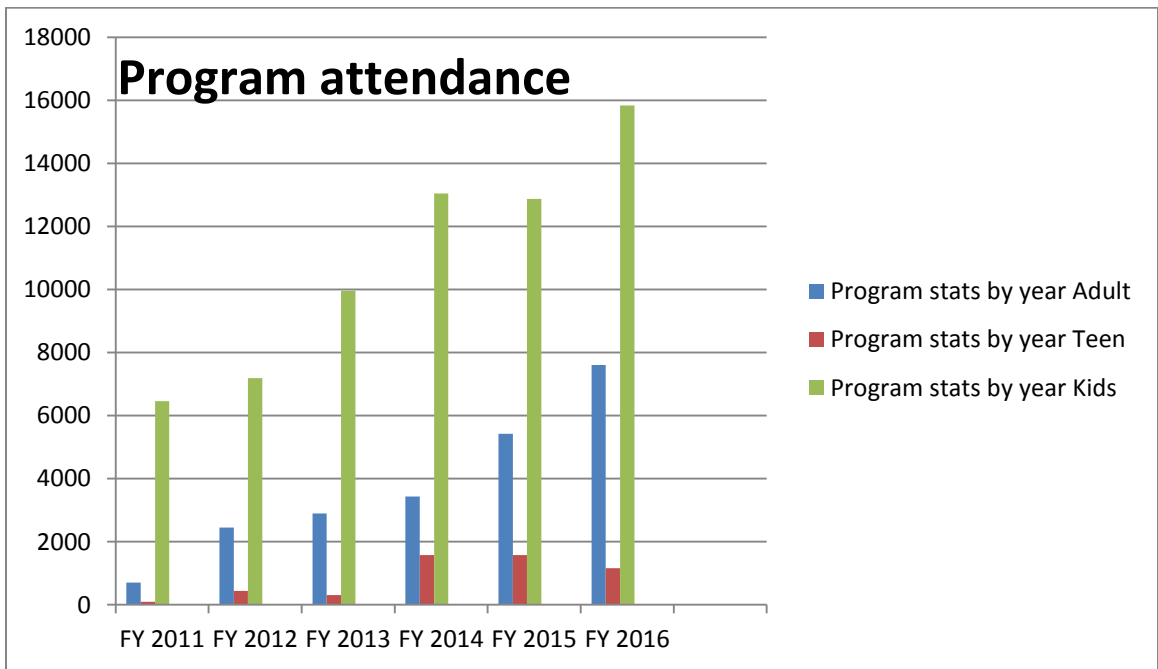

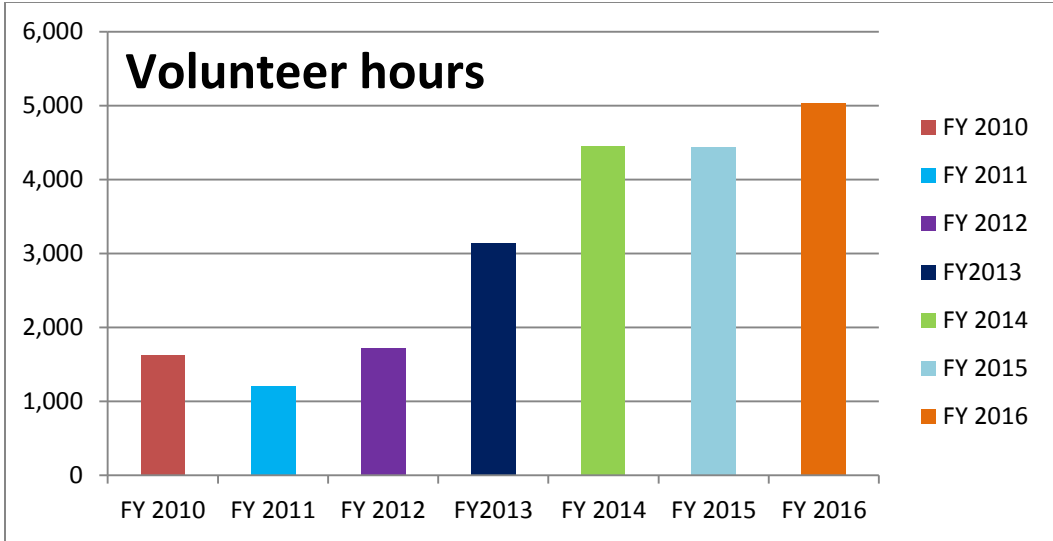

The Pflugerville Public Library is constantly seeking to provide services and resources for all people at every stage of their lives. To do this we must be on the cutting edge of the library profession. Last year staff logged more than 400 continuing education hours to ensure we are able to provide the most innovative and unexpected services and resources to the community.

The library continues to preserve local history through the Pflugerville Digital History Project launched in 2014. Recently, the library also took over management of the Heritage House Museum and has already increased open hours from 3 to 27 per month and is planning special events and exhibits for the upcoming year.

In 2016, the library hosted 198,333 visitors in person and more than 10,864 online. Almost 360,000 physical items were checked out. Library programs attracted 24,000 attendees from infants to seniors and the meeting rooms logged more than 3,028 reserved hours. Volunteers play a huge role in our success. In 2016, volunteers contributed more than 5,000 hours.

The library provides resources in a wide variety of formats including audiobooks, music CDs, DVDs, large print, juvenile and adult reading level materials. E-resources provided by the library include: e-books, e-zines, e-audiobooks, e-comics, reference databases, streaming video and streaming music for all ages. In 2016, 90,000 electronic items were downloaded by patrons and circulation statistics held steady with approximately 360,000 physical items checked out.

The library relies heavily on its volunteers to provide support for library programs and patron services. Volunteer hours totaled 5,039 saving nearly $45,000 for the community.

Program attendance was up significantly from 2015 due to the innovative and exciting offerings from our programming staff. This year marked the 2nd Annual MakerPfest, the first annual Comic Con, Pet Pfest and Teen Job Pfair. This year the Library has broken out children’s programs to the following categories: Kids 0-4, Kids 5-8, Tweens 8-12 and Teens 12-18.

Tomorrow: 2018 & 2019

The Library is a success on many levels. It meets the highest standards of TSLAC accreditation- with the exception of collection size. To address this issue within the confines of the physical space, the Library devotes a significant portion of the collection budget to space saving e-resources. These include streaming movies and music, e-books, e-magazines, e-comics, and e-audiobooks as well as several dozen databases. These resources are evaluated by library staff for usability. As options increase, the library e-resources are re-evaluated in comparison to competitors and changes are made accordingly.

Currently, the Pflugerville Library provides access to 11,500 contemporary e-books with another 46,000 classic e-books through Project Gutenberg. Through Odilo, the Library provides access to over 10,000 available in Pay-per-use and 15,000+ Spanish titles. Electronic materials in Vietnamese are available through Overdrive and Axis360. Further, the Library is in constant discussion with a wide-range of e-vendors, looking for the most accessible and efficient new e-resources. Librarians attend conferences and workshops and participate in continuing education to stay abreast of emerging technologies, services and resources in the field. Last year, staff logged more than 400 hours of continuing education.

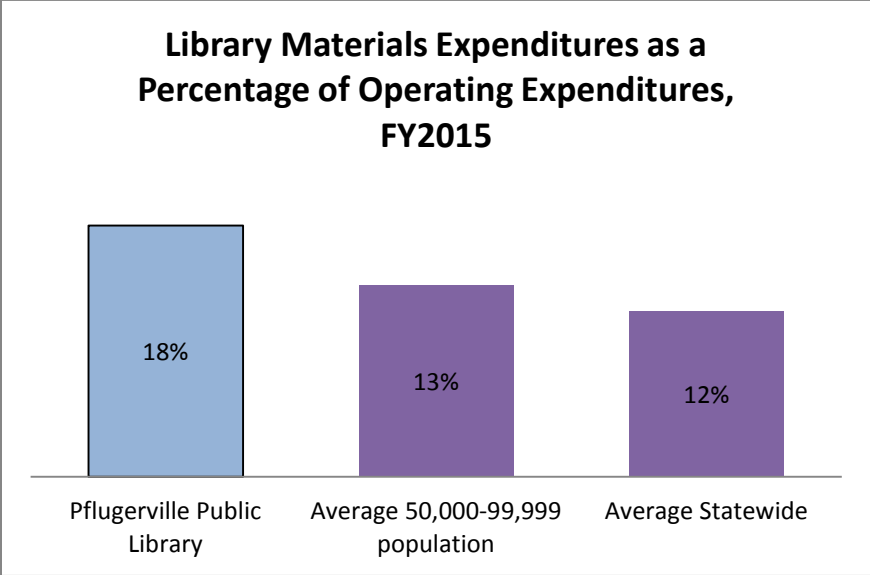

While the Library is expanding its digital collection as fast as possible, not everything is available in an electronic format. Further, not every one of our residents is equipped to take advantage of the Library's digital offerings. The Library offers approximately 71,000 physical items for checkout.

The Library's current physical collection is just over 71,000 items. While our collection is fresh, new, and much in demand, every item must earn its place on the shelves. As of 2014, Georgetown, with a similarly sized service population, maintains a collection of approximately 110,000 items in a 49,500 sq.ft. building. Round Rock, with a population of just over 100,000 people, has a collection in excess of 200,000 items. Round Rock Public Library recently conducted a third-party study that concluded it needed not one new library, but two. The supporting $23 million bond passed in 2013. Pflugerville City Planning indicates the Pflugerville population will reach 61,000 by 2019.

Pflugerville will need a new library branch complete and open by 2022.

Appendix: YesterdayYesterday

The Pflugerville Community Library was established in 1982 through the efforts of the Friends of the Pflugerville Community Library, who organized in 1981 and opened a one-room storefront library in downtown Pflugerville. In 1985, the City supplied some funds for operation and provided a small house at 102 South Third Street at nominal rent where the Library remained until 1999. The Library was gifted to the City by the Friends in 1992. By 1999, the Friends had also gifted land for a new library at 102 Tenth Street and, with the passage of a 1996 bond issue, the Library's new 12,500 sq. foot facility was up and running.

Pflugerville's rapid growth from 16,335 residents in 2000 to 46,936 in 2010, an increase of 187%, occasioned another Library facility bond issue in 2008. With the approval of the $7 million bond, the City commissioned architectural firms Vitetta and Piwonka-Sturrock and contractor Lee Lewis to renovate and expand the facility. Groundbreaking was held in January 2012, construction was substantially complete in April, 2013, and the Library hosted a well-attended Grand Opening on June 8th, 2013.

A new building brought a new name, the Pflugerville Public Library, and almost 150,000 new visitors. In fiscal year 2016, the Library welcomed almost 200,000 people through its doors, plus another 10,800 online.
